

May 16, 2005

Mediation of medical Malpractice Claims

9:30AM-3:30PM

Mount Nittany Medical Center

State College, Pennsylvania

Hosted by: CHART Risk Management Group

Recap:

Mr. Creo spoke about the mediation process and when risk managers should consider calling in mediators.

May 12-14, 2005

IAM Spring Conference

Montreal, Canada

Hosted by: International Academy of Mediators

Recap:

Mr. Creo spoke during the "Mediator Authenticity, transparency and Deception" Interview with Michael Moffitt, professor at the University of Oregon, on May 13.

Click here to read Michael Moffitt's transparency article.

May 4-6, 2005

Pennsylvania Bar Association, 2005 Annual Meeting

Hilton Hotel Pittsburgh

600 Commonwealth Place

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Hosted by: Pennsylvania Bar Association

Recap:

Mr. Creo spoke during the "Advocacy and Ethics in Mediation" session, on Thursday, May 5, 2005. The panel engaged in a lively, interactive presentation on issues advocates face in the mediation process. Mr. Creo also provided a basic introduction to the mediation process.

April 25, 2005

Handling the Complex Case

Lunch-n-Learn Seminar

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Hosted by Allegheny County Bar Association's Young Lawyers Division

Recap:

Robert A. Creo and Thomas W. Henderson spoke during this one hour seminar on the steps to take when handling the complex cases.

April 22, 2005

What's Hot and What's Not: A Survey of the State of the Art and Artist

2:00-5:00 P.M.

New Orleans, Louisiana

Hosted by MAPS

Recap:

Robert A. Creo presented at the MAPS Advance Mediator Training Workshop. Randy Lowry, Director, Strauss Institute for Dispute Resolution and Professor of Law, Pepperdine University School of Law led over 40 mediators in a dialogue on the interaction between negotiation, disputant values and mediation techniques. Following his engaging presentation, Mr. Creo built upon these themes in his presentation entitled: Mediator as Arbitrator: The Human Mediator.

Mr. Creo addressed the nature of the mediation process and the impact of the humanity of the participants and the mediator upon each other. The significance of moral and spiritual values resonated within the audience. One professional expressed his personal appreciation for the many "Eureka" moments he experienced during the afternoon.

April 18, 2005

ADR Presentation

5:00PM-6:00PM

Duquesne University

Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania

Hosted by: ADR Society at Duquesne University Law School

Recap:

Mr. Creo was a guest speaker at Duquesne University, and spoke about his personal experiences involving ADR, and ADR in general.

April 14-16, 2005

The Golden State of ADR

The Millennium Baltimore Hotel

Los Angeles, California 90071

Hosted by: American Bar Association

Recap:

Robert A. Creo presented on a panel on mediating death claims. Over 50 attorneys and mediators came from all over the world. He participated in a ninety minute interactive segment. A lively discussion ensued on the place of the mediator in claims of this nature in response to avoidance. Each panel member gave several pearls of wisdom for practicing mediation.